

Hulapalooza Survey

Evaluate your event

Survey participants and volunteers

Distribute a brief survey after Hulapalooza, either by asking people to complete a printed survey before they leave, or by sending out an online version a day or two after the event (consider using a platform such as SurveyMonkey). Here are a few questions you might want to include on your survey, but be sure to tailor the questions so they are specific to your event and gather information that will help the planning team.

1. What did you like about Hulapalooza?
2. Which activity was your favorite?
3. What didn't you like about Hulapalooza?
4. What activities would you add to the event if we host something similar in the future?
5. Would you attend another Hulapalooza or a similar event?
6. Are you interested in being part of a health ministry effort to support abundant mental, physical and spiritual health in our congregation and community?

Evaluate the event as a team

Once your survey results are complete, gather the Hulapalooza planning team to celebrate your efforts and review feedback.

Take time to breathe and congratulate yourselves for a job well done!

To assist in any future event planning, compile planning notes regarding all of the work you did to host Hulapalooza. This will allow any future committees to use your work and will help them avoid any challenges you experienced. Consider saving all files on a flash drive or in cloud storage, such as a shared Dropbox folder.

Potential items to include in your post-event files are:

- What worked
- What didn't work
- Documents used
- Lessons learned
- Timeline
- Committee size
- Diagram of event space setup
- Evaluation results
- Budget
- Volunteer list, responsibilities and roles
